Excuse Letter for OJT Absences

Dear Dr. Santos,

Greetings of peace!

I deeply apologize for my repeated absences during my on-the-job training under the Hospitality Management Program. First, I missed duty because our rest-day schedule was changed and we were initially told we had a rest day, but later we were required to time in at 8:00 AM. By the time I saw the message to report to Astoria, I had already overslept, which is why I missed my shift. My second absence was due to a family emergency: my grandmother, who has stage-4 cancer, was in critical condition, and I was coordinating with my mother abroad and waiting for updates from the hospital in Sibugay. Third, I was physically exhausted after participating in a recent palaro, I sustained bruises and minor injuries, and I believed that coming to duty in that condition would inconvenience Astoria. Lastly, after the Chefs on Parade event, I was unable to clock in because I was extremely tired, had little sleep from our preparations, and had woken up very early for the competition. I felt that going to work in that state would only cause inconvenience to Astoria and to the supervisor.

I sincerely apologize for all my absences. If there is a possibility, I would like to make up for the incomplete hours. I remain fully committed to fulfilling my on-the-job training requirements and improving my attendance. I will do my best to avoid repeating the same mistakes. Thank you very much for your understanding and consideration.

Respectfully yours,
